Tuition Fee Schedule for Publicly-Funded Programs 2013-14

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

REVISED

April 3, 2013

Tuition Fees at the University of Toronto

Tuition fees at the University of Toronto are determined in accordance with the University's Tuition Fee Policy (Appendix A1), the Statement of Commitment Regarding International Students (Appendix A2) and the Provincial Government's Tuition Framework. In presenting this tuition schedule, the University reaffirms its commitment to student aid and its accessibility statement:

"No student offered admission to a program at the University of Toronto should be unable to enter or complete the program due to lack of financial means."

The Expiring Tuition Framework (expires April 30, 2013)

A Provincial Framework for tuition and student aid has been in place for the last seven years (2006-07 through to 2012-13) and will be expiring April 30, 2013. Over this period, domestic tuition fees have been regulated and increases allowed subject to accessibility guarantees. Under the expired Tuition Framework, tuition fees for entering students in Arts and Science and selected other undergraduate programs were permitted to increase by a maximum of 4.5%. Tuition fees for entering students in graduate and high-cost professional programs could be increased by a maximum of 8%. Increases in tuition fees for continuing students in any program could not exceed 4%. Overall, the average increase in tuition for all domestic students in any institution could not exceed 5%.

The Framework was accompanied by an accessibility guarantee. The Tuition Set Aside formula requires a specific amount to be set aside by universities for student aid, so that universities ensure accessibility, regardless of the students' financial means. When the Framework was extended in 2009, there were also some improvements made to OSAP funding. In January 2012 the provincial government introduced the Ontario Tuition Grant (OTG) program. The OTG initially awarded eligible students with family incomes below $160,000 up to $800 per term of non-repayable grant support up to a maximum of two terms per academic year. The OTG value was increased to $840 per term up to a maximum of two terms for 2012-13, with an indication from MTCU that the OTG value will be adjusted in future years so that it continues to equal 30% of the average Ontario undergraduate Arts and Science tuition. With the introduction of the OTG program, MTCU cancelled funding for other programs such as the Ontario Trust for Student Support (OTSS) matching program, the Queen Elizabeth II Reaching for the Top Scholarships, the Textbook and Technology Grant, the OSAP Work-Study Bursary, and the OSAP Special Bursary.

The New Tuition Framework

On March 28, 2013, the Ministry of Training Colleges and Universities announced its Tuition Fee Framework for 2013-14 to 2016-17 replacing the previous Framework that had been in effect since 2006-07. The new four-year Framework will allow for some program variability within an annual 3% overall cap, a reduction from the previous Framework which had a 5% overall cap with program variability. The new Framework continues to be accompanied by an accessibility guarantee and the Tuition Set Aside formula requires a specific amount to be set aside by universities for student aid. The new Framework is summarized in Table 1:

Program Type	Program Year Maximum Increase
	First Year	Continuing	Continuing
		(students starting in 2013-14 & beyond)	(students who started prior to 2013-14)

Tuition Revenue

Tuition revenues increase annually as a result of higher enrolments and as a result of (i) modest increases for domestic students and (ii) moderate increases in international tuition fees. The previous provincial Tuition Framework allowed for annual increases on domestic tuition of no more than 5% on average; the actual average increase at the University of Toronto over the past six years under the Framework has been approximately 4.3% when measured on a gross basis. When increases in student financial aid were taken into consideration, net tuition increases averaged about 3%. It is anticipated that under the new Tuition Framework the University of Toronto will strive to exercise the full cap of 3% average overall domestic tuition increase. The impact of this on net tuition is not yet known precisely but a preliminary estimate indicates the average net tuition increase will be approximately 2.2%.

Each year the University returns a portion of tuition revenues to domestic students as bursary support. New tuition revenues from international enrolments require significant investment in services to ensure a high-quality experience and the success of our international students. Doctoral stream tuition increases are often a net zero or a net loss to the institution, once graduate student funding packages and other supports are taken into consideration. Given the structure of the new Tuition Framework, if a university increases fees for all programs by the maximum allowable rates it will exceed the overall average cap of 3%. Therefore, universities must prioritize program level increases to remain under the overall cap. As a result, the University of Toronto has chosen not to increase tuition fees for entering or continuing doctoral stream graduate students in 2013-14; this allows room for tuition increases in other resource-intensive professional programs.

With the implementation of the new Tuition Framework the total projected increase in tuition revenue in 2013-14 is $85.2M (down $6.4M from $91.6M under the old Framework). Of the total $85.2M, the increment resulting from tuition fee increases is $37.0M, and $48.2M is attributable to both the flow through of prior year tuition decisions and enrolment growth. The University's operating budget, as approved by Academic Board on March 21, 2013, will not be changed at this time. The revenue reduction of $6.4M will be managed on an in-year basis.

Significant increased expenditures are planned for next year, including faculty hiring, enriched student services, a new student information system, improved wireless internet connection across all three campuses, additional staff at the library, library acquisitions, and deferred maintenance. Total operating expenditures in the 2013-14 budget are projected to rise by approximately $120M. This plan was set before the recent announcement of the tuition framework. With no net increase in revenue from provincial operating grants projected for 2013-14, new tuition revenues are critically necessary to fund initiatives and enhancements across academic, student, and shared service divisions. The University will review options for managing the shortfall in planned revenues for 2013-14 through reduced expenditures, where possible, and by redirecting reserves set aside for other purposes. The longer term impact of the revenue reduction is estimated to reach approximately $56M in base funding in 2017-18, the final year of the planning period. When calculated on a year-over-year cash basis, the revenue loss totals $144M over the five years. Over the next few months all divisions will plan for the reduction in tuition revenue.

The University continues to monitor the impact of tuition fee increases on enrolment to ensure that enrolment is unaffected by tuition, as required by the University's Fee Policy. In recent years, the University's Enrolment Reports have consistently shown that demand for University programs continues to be very strong and, indeed, we are seeing increased pressure for spaces in programs across the University. Figure 1 displays increasing applications and steady yield rates over the past several years.

The University also reports annually on student financial support, outlining expenditures on need-based student aid, support for international, graduate and part-time students as well as merit-based funding. The Annual Report on Student Financial Support for 2011-12 will accompany this Tuition Fee Report through the governance process.

Models for Assessing Tuition Fees

Program Fees and Course Fees

Full-time undergraduate student fees are levied in one of two ways: program fees or course fees. Under a program fee structure, students pay a single fee for study classified as full-time for fee purposes. Under a course fee structure, students pay a fee for each course in which they are registered. Most University of Toronto programs collect fees under the program fee model. The new Tuition Framework does not change the policy on program and course fees; however the Ministry has signaled that they will be discussing options with institutions and students over the coming year.

Programs with higher fees in upper year

In some undergraduate programs students pay a lower tuition fee in the first year and a higher fee starting in second year. This structure reflects the move from a first-year general program to a second-year specialized program. These programs include: Commerce, Business Administration, Management, Computer Science, Bioinformatics, Visual Studies, Communication, Culture and Information Technology (CCIT), and Interactive Digital Media.

Programs with fees set at beginning of program (Cohort Fees)

There are a few programs in which tuition fees are set for the duration of the program at the point of entry and remain the same for all years of the program. These programs include the MD/PhD, the MBA 3-Year, the MHSc in Medical Radiation Sciences 3-Year, and the Extended MEng. The tuition fees given in Appendix B for these programs will apply to all years of the program for the 2013-14 entering cohort.

Combined and Concurrent Program Fees

The University has an increasing number of combined and concurrent program offerings. In order to improve communications with potential applicants and existing students, Schedules B3 & C3 have been developed. The proposed fees by year-of-study for the combined and concurrent programs for almost all cases are based on the fees proposed in Schedules B1 & C1.

Net Tuition

Net tuition is the amount that students actually pay after taking into account the contribution of both the Province, through OSAP grants, and the University, through its various non-repayable grant and scholarship programs. Although of assistance to students, OSAP loans are excluded from net tuition calculations given that loans must be repaid.

The University recently updated its net tuition analysis for the full-time 2011-12 undergraduate population. On average, OSAP recipients paid just over half of their total tuition and fees. When the new Ontario Tuition Grant (OTG) program is factored in, net tuition for OSAP recipients dropped to 48% on average.

For a comprehensive overview of the University's financial support programs, please refer to the Annual Report on Student Financial Support that has been reported to the Business Board on March 4, 2013 and the Academic Board on March 21, 2013.

Tuition Fees for Domestic Students

The University's Fee Policy states that public funding be supplemented as necessary to offer students an educational experience of a quality that ranks with that of the finest public research universities in the world. Appendix B shows the proposed tuition fees for domestic students, by program and entering cohort. This schedule is applicable to students entering the University in May 2013 or later. According to this schedule, and consistent with the Fee Policy and within the new Provincial Framework, tuition fees will increase by an average of 2.94% (gross) for domestic students, which is slightly below the 3% maximum stipulated by the new Framework. It is important to note that when student aid is taken into account, the net increase in tuition for domestic students is estimated at approximately 2.2%. The following are the main features of the proposed tuition fee schedule for domestic students in 2013-14. Full details are given in Appendix B. Fee increases are not the same for all programs, consistent with the University's Fee Policy which calls for a differentiated fee structure. According to this Policy, tuition fees should reflect individual program goals, resource requirements, program costs, etc.

Entering Domestic Students – Direct-Entry Undergraduate

Tuition fees for students entering first year in many undergraduate programs will increase by 3% relative to the 2012-13 levels. Students entering first year in 2013-14 in Arts and Science programs, at all three campuses, Architecture, Music and Kinesiology and Physical Education will pay a tuition fee of $5,865. Entering Applied Science and Engineering students will pay a tuition fee of $12,363, a 5% increase relative to the 2012-13 level.

Program	Year 1 Tuition	% Increase
Arts & Science, 3 campuses	$5,865	3%
Music	$5,865	3%
Architecture	$5,865	3%
Kinesiology	$5,865	3%
Engineering	$12,363	5%

Several professional undergraduate programs are also limited to 3% increases for incoming students in 2013-14, as seen in Table 4:

Table 4: Incoming Students, Domestic Undergraduate Programs at 3% (second-entry) 2013-14
Program	Year 1 Tuition	% Increase
Nursing	$5,865	3%
Education	$5,865	3%
Physician Assistant	$5,865	3%
Radiation Science	$5 , 865	3%

Tuition fees for the programs in Table 5 have been set to meet the special needs and circumstances of these programs, specifically more intensive resource requirements, and therefore increases for entering students are 5%.

Professional Programs 2013-14
Program	Year 1 Tuition	% Increase

Pharmacy: PharmD	$15,743	5%
Dentistry: DDS	$32,301	5%
Law: JD	$28,791	5%

Entering Domestic Students – Graduate

Tuition fees for students entering graduate programs are permitted to rise by 5% under the new Framework. Tuition fees for doctoral stream students will not increase in 2013-14. Tuition fees in Professional Master's and diploma programs have more resource-intensive program structures and therefore will increase by 4% or 5%.

Continuing Domestic Students – Undergraduate

In accordance with the new Tuition Framework, increases for continuing students in the following direct-entry programs will increase by 3% in all cases except Applied Science and Engineering where the tuition fee will increase by 4%:

Table 6: Continuing Students Domestic UndergraduatePrograms 2013-14	e, Direct-Entry
Program	% Increase
Arts & Science, 3 campuses	3%
Music	3%
Architecture	3%
Kinesiology	3%
Applied Science and Engineering	4%

Continuing Domestic Students – Graduate

Tuition fees for continuing doctoral stream students will not increase in 2013-14. Tuition fees for most continuing Professional Master's students will increase by 4% in 2013-14

Entering and Continuing Domestic Students – Medicine MD

The Faculty of Medicine proposes that fees for both entering and continuing students in the MD program will increase by 3% to $20,132.

Entering and Continuing Domestic Students – UTM MMPA and MMI

UTM proposes that fees for both entering and Year 2 students in the MMPA program be held at the 2012-13 level of $30,194 for 2013-14 and the Year 3 MMPA fee to be held at the 2012-13 level of $29,076. UTM also proposes that fees for all students in the MMI program be held constant at $26,923. Both programs have higher fees than most of their comparators.

Programs with higher fees in upper year

Tuition recommendations for students entering second year of the Commerce, Business Administration, Management, Computer Science, Bioinformatics, Visual Studies, Communication, Culture and Information Technology (CCIT), and Interactive Digital Media programs in 2013-14 were approved as part of the 2012-13 Tuition Fee schedule—each were approved to increase by 8% under the old Framework. These fee increases will now be revised downward to 5% under the new Tuition Framework.

Students in the 2013 entering cohort will be moving to second year in 2014-15. The proposed increase for second year in 2014-15 is 5% for each of the Commerce, Business Administration, Management, Computer Science, Bioinformatics, CCIT and Interactive Digital Media and Visual Studies programs over the 2013-14 second-year cohort. For clarity, and to ensure that students are properly informed at the time they enter the University, tuition fees in second year of these programs are given separately in Schedule B2 of Appendix B for 2012-13, 2013-14 and 2014-15. Approval of the tuition schedule proposed in this report will constitute an approval of second year tuition in these programs for 2014-15 as well as 2013-14. Tuition fees in 2014-15 for all other programs and years of study will be submitted to Governing Council for approval in the spring of 2014, as per usual practice.

Domestic tuition fee comparisons

Domestic tuition fees at the University of Toronto remain competitive with peer institutions. A comparison of Arts and Science undergraduate tuition is a useful example. Arts and Science domestic undergraduate tuition (including incidental fees) at the University of Toronto ($6,853 in 2012-13) was slightly above the median tuition ($6,638) of our Canadian U15 peers (range of $3,874-$7,728). Tuition fees have been raised over the last two years to the maximum £9000 (~$14,000 Cdn.) permitted for domestic undergraduate students at most research-intensive UK universities. Tuition fees for undergraduate in-state Arts and Science students for the AAU public universities in the United States ranged last year from $6,143 to $16,590 US, with a mean of $10,885. Domestic tuition fees at the University of Toronto thus remain not only competitive but, in fact, of good value when compared to other jurisdictions.

The University carefully monitors applications, offers and yields. Applications continue to rise each year while yield rates for most programs are stable or increasing. That is, the University continues to attract high quality students in ever greater numbers.

Tuition Fees for International Students

The University of Toronto is committed to maintaining and strengthening its international enrolment as expressed in the Statement of Commitment Regarding International Students given in Appendix A2. The University has invested in, and will continue to invest in, services to enhance the success of our international students. The proposed tuition fee schedule for international students is given in Appendix C. There is no change to international fees resulting from the introduction of the new tuition Framework.

International fees are set at a level to more closely reflect the true cost of educating students, whereas revenue from grants and tuition fees for domestic students remains well below the true cost.

International Student Recovery

In the 2012 Ontario Budget the provincial government announced two International Student Recovery (ISR) operating grant reductions. The first reduction eliminates the previous subsidies for non-PhD international students that were provided to institutions to pay their municipal taxes. The second ISR is a reduction, in the words of the government, of the "indirect support through operating grants" that it provides to non-PhD international students.

The current $75 grant/subsidy for each non-PhD international student to assist with the payment of municipal taxes will be discontinued. The phase-in will be immediate in 2013-14 for non-PhD international students in all years of study.

Each non-PhD international student will also trigger a deduction of $750 from the institution's operating grant allocation. The $750 ISR will be phased-in over multiple years starting with the incoming 2013-14 cohort.

Many institutions, including the University of Toronto, will recover this reduced level of operating grant funding through the charging of higher international tuition fees. Although the provincial decisions are regrettable, the proposed international fees (see section below) for 2013-14 include $825 of ISR increases for the incoming 2013-14 cohort, excluding doctoral stream students, and a $75 ISR increase for the 2012-13 cohort, excluding the doctoral stream students. The international student cohorts who entered the University prior to 2012-13 will not have their fees further increased beyond the 5% maximum increases per the University's Fee Level Commitment (see section below) that was made to them at the time of entry.

Although the provincial government will reduce the University's operating grant funding for international doctoral stream masters students, the University is not proposing to recover the lost revenue via higher tuition. The University will continue to have a common doctoral stream tuition fee for its PhD and doctoral stream masters (MA, MSc) programs.

Tuition Fee Increases for 2013-14

Tuition increases for entering students have been limited to 5% plus the $825 of ISR increases in some programs. In other programs, due to higher resource requirements, tuition fees will increase by 8-10% plus the $825 of ISR increases. As a result, international tuition fees will increase by an average of 7.2%.

The University's 2012-13 international fees for undergraduate Arts and Science and Applied Science and Engineering are the highest amongst our U15 peers; however demand from international students continues to increase in strength. International fees for Commerce and Medicine (MD) are close to the median of our U15 peers. The University's 2013-14 international tuition fees in most programs remain below the average tuition fees of the AAU public universities.

Tuition fees for international students entering the Information Museum studies MMST program will increase by 6% plus the $825 of ISR increases. The Rotman School of Management is proposing to increase its Year 1 international tuition fees by only the $825 of ISR adjustments for the 2-Year MBA. The Rotman School is also proposing that the fees for both the entering and continuing Master of Finance students be increased by 4% over last year's levels. UTM is proposing that the fees for both the entering and continuing Master of Management Innovation students be increased by 4%. Comparative tuition fee levels and/or the current strength of the Canadian dollar were the primary considerations for these programs. Tuition fees for all other entering undergraduate and graduate students will increase by 5% plus the $825 of ISR increases where applicable.

Tuition fees for most continuing Year 1 & 2 students will increase by 5% plus the $75 ISR municipal tax adjustment, except in programs with cohort fees, as noted in the section above. Tuition fees for all Year 3 & 4 continuing students will increase by 5%, except in programs with cohort fees, as noted in the section above. Year 3 & 4 students will not be charged the $75 ISR municipal tax adjustment in order to stay within the maximum 5% continuing student fee level commitments that were made by the University to the 2010 and 2011 incoming cohorts.

Programs with higher fees in upper year

Tuition recommendations for students entering second year of the Commerce, Business Administration, Management, Computer Science, Bioinformatics, Visual Studies, Communication, Culture and Information Technology (CCIT), and Interactive Digital Media programs in 2013-14 were approved as part of the 2012-13 Tuition Fee schedule.

Students in the 2013 entering cohort will be moving to second year in 2014-15. The proposed increase for second year in 2014-15 is 10% for all of these programs (Schedule B2) over the 2013-14 second-year cohort.

International Tuition for the Combined and Concurrent Programs

The proposed fees by year of study for the combined and concurrent programs in almost all cases are based on the fees proposed in Schedule C1.

Most combined and concurrent programs do not currently have international students enrolled. In the event that they do in future, international tuition fees would be charged following the same practices as outlined in the domestic Schedule B3.

Tuition Fee Increases for 2014-15

The tables in Appendix C show the proposed international tuition fees for 2014-15. In most cases, tuition will increase by 5%. For some programs, further increases beyond 5% are needed to cover resource requirements. For a few programs, increases below 5% are proposed primarily due to competitive environments for new students. These fees will be brought forward for Governing Council approval next year. They are included in this report to provide potential applicants with information regarding proposed tuition fee levels.

International tuition fee comparisons

International tuition fees at the University of Toronto remain competitive with peer institutions. Once again, a comparison of the Arts and Science undergraduate tuition is a useful example. Arts and Science international undergraduate tuition (plus incidental fees) at the University of Toronto ($29,567) is at the top of the range of our U15 peers. This is appropriate given the University of Toronto's place in the international rankings. Tuition plus fees for undergraduate out-of-state Arts and Science students for the AAU public universities in the United States ranged last year from $18,609 to $40,496 US, with a mean of $28,653. Private institutions' fees remain considerably higher at $37,500 to $43,200. Applications from international students across all programs remain very strong, and in fact are increasing each year. Figure 3 displays the international tuition fee for Arts & Science at the University of Toronto, relative to some AAU peers, for 2012-13.

Figure 3: International tuition fee for Arts & Science at the University of Toronto, relative to some AAU peers, for 2012-13.

Fee Level Commitment

The University's Tuition Fee Policy (Appendix A1) states that in establishing the tuition fee schedule, a commitment should be made to each student upon entry as to the level of fees to be charged over the normal course of the full-time program of study. From 1998-99 to 2011-12, the University of Toronto made a commitment to students in its fee schedules guaranteeing that, unless otherwise noted, no student continuing in a program will be subjected to a fee increase of more than 5% per year. For students entering as of 2012-13 onwards, the commitment was revised to be no more than 5.69% per year. This revision was made in response to the introduction of the International Student Recovery charge related to municipal taxes (see section above). The commitment will last for the normal length of the full-time program of study. For students in the doctoral stream, the commitment is in effect for two years for Master's students and for four years for PhD students. For students who participate in a Professional Experience Year or in co-op programs as part of their undergraduate program, the normal length of full-time study increases by one year. For undergraduate students entering the University via an International Foundation Program, the normal length of study also increases by one year. The normal length of a program will be determined each year and posted on the University's website.

The Government's new Tuition Framework for the period 2013-14 to 2016-17 limits tuition increases for domestic students who are continuing in their programs to 3% for undergraduate Arts & Science, Music, Kinesiology, Architecture, Education, Nursing, Radiation Science, Physician Assistant and Transitional Year Programme. It limits increases to 4% for students entering prior to 2013-14 in professional programs and to 5% for students entering in professional programs in 2013-14 and beyond. The University will adhere to the new Framework and tuition fee increases for continuing full-time domestic students will follow the above-noted caps.

Partial Fees

Many students at the University of Toronto are charged partial fees based on the tuition fee for full-time study. The following formulas guide the derivation of partial fees:

 Part-time fees for graduate programs are set at 30% of the full-time annual fee, with the exception of the Post-Masters Nurse Practitioner Diploma program, the Nursing diploma in Anaesthesia, and the Masters of Engineering Advanced Design & Manufacturing Institute (ADMI) program.

- 2. The Post-Masters Nurse Practitioner Diploma program is only offered on a parttime basis over 20 consecutive months. Domestic students entering the program in 2013-14 will be charged $7,489 in the first year, and a projected 5% increase to $7,863 in second year. International students will be charged $12,759 in first year and a projected 5% increase to $13,397 in second year.
- 3. The MEng ADMI course fee for domestic students will remain unchanged at $2,700 for 2013-14. All the partner universities of the ADMI program (McMaster, Queens, Toronto, Western) charge the same course fee. The course fee is periodically reviewed, and was last increased by 8% in 2011-12. The ADMI program does not have international students.
- 4. In programs for which tuition fees are levied on a course-by-course basis, the course tuition fee is the tuition fee for the program divided by the normal course load for full-time study.
- 5. Part-time fees for undergraduate programs are equal to the full-time fees pro-rated on a per course basis relative to full-time course load.
- 6. When computing a partial fee, the respective fee for full-time study is the tuition fee for either domestic or international students, depending on the status of the student.

7. Because of the minimum costs incurred for registration in any program, no tuition fee in 2013-14, after refunds in the case of full withdrawal from the University, shall be less than $242.

Appendix A1: Tuition Fee Policy

The University of Toronto's tuition fee policy should reflect its mission as an internationally significant, public research university with undergraduate, graduate and professional programs of excellent quality. Such a goal assumes an appropriate level of funding which, for a public university, means principal support from the Provincial and Federal Governments, and from endowment funds as well as tuition fees. It also assumes the existence of programs of student aid to maintain the accessibility of the University to students of varying financial means. The effect of this policy should be neutral with regard to enrolment levels, which will be determined from time to time through the University's planning processes. Our tuition fee policy has five elements:

- 1. Advocacy. In making the case for public policies strongly supportive of an accessible public system of university education, the University will continue to advocate ongoing and substantial public investment in the university sector.
- 2. Fee Revenue. The University of Toronto will continue to be a public university, for which ongoing and substantial support from government will always be essential. The basic principle of the tuition policy is that public funding should be supplemented as can be demonstrated to be necessary to offer students an educational experience of a quality that ranks with that of the finest public research universities in the world.
- 3. Fee Differentiation. The University should continue to move toward a more differentiated structure of fees across programs. In setting fees for each particular program, the following factors will be taken into account:
  - fees should take into account the plans and aspirations of each academic division, and the level of resources necessary to achieve high program quality
  - program costs should be taken into account in setting fees.
  - fees should be set at a level that is competitive with programs of similar quality in institutions with which we compete or expect to compete for students.
  - fee levels should be relatively higher in programs for which the future income prospects of graduates are relatively higher.

- fee levels should reflect a justifiable balance across public and private sources of revenue per student.
- fee policy should allow for intentional, disproportionate public subsidies and intrauniversity cross-subsidies, where a case for cross-subsidization can be made.

In bringing forward the tuition fee schedule each time, the administration shall provide an explanation taking account of the above factors.

- 4. Fee Level Commitment. The tuition fee schedule will include a commitment to be made to each student upon entry as to the level of fees to be charged over the normal course of the full-time program of study.
- 5. Monitoring. In presenting the annual Report on Enrolment, the Vice-President and Provost shall include commentary regarding the effects, if any, of changes in tuition fees upon changes in enrolment.

Appendix A2: Statement of Commitment Regarding International Students

Preamble

International students are an essential feature of the University of Toronto's participation in international scholarship. They contribute to the international character of the University's research, and provide opportunities for the international exchange of knowledge through its teaching programs. The presence of outstanding students from all parts of the world in the University's undergraduate and graduate, professional, and research programs, helps to achieve the excellence the University seeks to assure for all its activities. On the University's campuses international students also make an important and positive contribution to the cultural life of the community and create lasting relationships of benefit to individuals as well as to the institution and the country generally. And finally, by enrolling international students, the University of Toronto, as an internationally significant university, has an opportunity to share its educational resources with other countries whose institutions are still evolving.

In light of these considerations, the Governing Council has adopted the Statement of Commitment Regarding International Students that commits the University to enrolling a broad mix of international students in its programs, and that articulates the basic principles that will guide their admission to the University, arrangements for their financial support, right of access to academic courses and programs, and the provision of services to address their particular needs.

This Statement of Commitment applies to University of Toronto students in university degree, diploma and certificate programs who are not Canadian citizens, permanent residents, or convention refugees.

Statement of Principles

- 1. Within the Framework of divisional academic plans, the University of Toronto welcomes international students into all of its programs.
- 2. The admission of international students will be consistent with the Policies and Principles for Admission to the University of Toronto approved by the Governing Council in 1991.
- 3. The University will broaden and strengthen its recruiting efforts abroad.
- 4. Once admitted to the University, international students will have access to the same range of courses and support services on the same basis as other students.

Financial Support

- 1. International students who are admitted and enrolled may encounter financial emergencies and the University will provide financial assistance as needed and where possible.
- 2. The University will develop a program of international admission scholarships using its own resources and support from external sources to be awarded on the basis of exceptional academic merit and financial need.
- 3. The Report of the Vice-Provost, Students on Student Financial Support, submitted annually to governance for information, will include data on the support provided to international students.
